NARROW ESCAPE

Was That of the Night Passenger Train on the C., L. & W.

RAN INTO AN OPEN SWITCH

Just West of Bridgeport, Wrecking the ocomotive and Demotishing Two Gondata Cars That were on the Siding-A Martin's Ferry Passenger Had Four Teeth Knocked Out, and Others were Less Seriously Injured-The Details.

There was a miraculous escape from a serious railway disaster on the Cleveland, Lorain & Wheeling road, just one mile west of Bridgeport, at 8 o'clock last night. The passenger train from Cleveland was coming in at a pretty lively speed, when at the point stated it ran into an open switch. It was a bad place for a collision as there is a very sharp

The engine struck a train of gondolas standing on the switch and telescoped two of them. The engine was badly wrecked. While none of the passengers on the train was seriously injured, all of them were more or less shaken up. Misses Estella and Nettle Kraus and Mary Burk, of this city, were passengers on the train returning from a visit to Cleveland. They were showered with broken glass and tossed about by the shock. Mrs. Emeline Buster, of Marthi's Ferry, received the worst injuries, having four test knocked out. She is about sixty years of age.

The engineer must have succeeded in reversing the engine and applying the air brakes, else the impact would have been greater. The road at the point where the collision occurred is close to the creek, and the embankment has a sheer fall of twenty feet. If the speed of the passenger train had not been checked the coaches would have gone over the bank into the creek. The engine struck a train of gondolas being you to them march out of the barracks."

At three points along the route, Emperor Francis Joseph stopped his carriage and angrily remarked upon the conduct of the public, who persisted in trespassing within the lines of troops.

When the procession, headed by the two emperors was returning from the railroad station, the horse of the censured general became restive and the general sheathing his sword, ordered the Bosnians to open their lines and before the imperial party arrived he rode out of sight, evidently fearing the emperor would again censure him.

Claims Part of Chicago.

BENTON HARBOR, Mich., Sept. 21 .-Simon Pokagon, chief of the Pottowattomie tribe of Indians, with Lawyer In galls, of Hartford, Mich., were here this morning enroute to Chicago, to interview W. H. Cox, a Chicago capitalist, in relation to a claim that the Pottowattomic tribe holds title to 130 acres of land in the heart of Chicago, which land is mostly in possession of Mr. Cox. According to the Indians, the land became theirs by virtue of a treaty executed in 1833 between the father of the present chief and the government. This 130 acres, as claimed, formed part of an immense territory which the Indians afterward sold. It is stated that when Mr Cox attempted to procure an abstract to the land, that he was advised by the government that the property was part of the Pottowattomies tract. morning enroute to Chicago, to interview

Want a Preferred Lien

CHICAGO, Sept. 20.—The University of Illinois to-day filed a petition in the Globe Savings Bank receivership ease, asking that its claim against President Charles W. Spalding, recently convicted Charles W. Spaiding, recently convicted of embezzlement, be made a preferred lien on all the assets of the bank. The Chicago Title and Trust Company, receiver, objected to the filing of the petition, but the objection was overruled and all the other parties interested in the assets were ordered to answer the petition. The claim of the University of Illinois against the defunct bank amounts to $295,500. The effect of the petition. NEW YORK, Sept. 21.-A special to the Tribune from Columbia, S. C., says Andrew Smith and his wife, colored, living near Donalds, Abbeville county, locked in their house six children, the young ed in their house six children, the young-est of whom was eighteen months old, and the eldest seven years. The parents went to church. An hour later the neigh-bors heard frightful screams coming from Smith's house, the interior of which was in flames. Negroes made heroic ef-forts to save the children, but it was im-possible to reach them and all perished. It is supposed that an oil lamp left burn-ing was overturned. When the parents returned a pile of bones in the ashes was all they found.

RATCHFORD'S VIEW

Of Miners' Strike Settlement -Thinks it is a Great Victory - Fight to be Kept Up in WASHINGTON, Sept. 21.-M. D. Ratchford, president of the United Mine Workers of America, who is here to attend a special meeting of the officers of the Federation of Labor, gave the following authorized statement to the Associated Press to-day:

lowing authorized statement to the Associated Press to-day:

"To-day will see about 75,000 miners resume work in the bituminous colf fields of the Central states. The strike generally ends to-day. This is the middle of the twelfth week of its duration. It was brought to a close at our convention held at Columbus, O., on the 8th to the 11th of the present month, the test days' time being given to allow miners and operators to come together in Illinois and West Virginia to meet the prices fix-do-65 cects a ton in Pittsburgh, 56 cents in Ohlo and Indiana, the same to continue till the end of December. The mining situation is not likely to become disturbed again until the beginning of next year, at that time we hope to be able it settle wage differences amicably and without the necessity of a strike. It is well understood that the fight will continue from the present time in all fields and against all operators who refuse to meet the rates. The greatest trouble will be found in West Virginia and a portion of Illinois. I am still hopeful, however, that the producers in those fields will conform to the change and put their mines in operation. Falling to do this, we will fight them as we have done until the beginning of next year, at which time it is said their present contracts will expire.

"I am very well satisfied with the

we will fight them as we have done until the beginning of next year, at which time it is said their present contracts will expire.

"I am very well satisfied with the agreement reached, and feel that it is the greatest victory gained by trades unions for years past. Of course, the victory is not altogether one of miners. While they have done the striking, trades unions and organized bodies have suppiled the necessaries without which the miners could not possibly succeed. It is a victory for organized labor, and not for any particular trade, and we want our friends who have helped us to feel that it is their victory as well as ours. I feel very grateful for the assistance sliven us by the American Federation of Labor, and the kindly disposition shown us at all times by Mr. Gompers and the members of his executive committee."

Mr. Ratchford was asked as to the situation in West Virginia and Illinois, and he said: "My advices from West Virginia are to the effect that our miners are standing firm; are well pleased with the agreement reached, and evince a determination to fight their battle to the end. Our purpose is to bring the miners and operators of that state together in a joint convention that a uniform mining price may be fixed and paid for the sama vein of coal and a fair relative price for other veins within the state. In short, fix a mining rate that will give to West Virginia fair competing opportunities and nothing more.

"As to Illinois, a convention of Illinois miners is being held now. I have not had any advices from there, but can safeity predict what their action will be. They will continue the struggle until relative prices are established. The greatest difficulty in the way of an advance in the Illinois district is the fact that contracts were taken last spring based upon a low mining rate, as they were in Pittaburgh and elsewhere. But this is a matter that we cannot be responsible for; it is a matter of business to the operator himself.
No man has a right to sell another man's

ness affairs.

"The fixing of a mining rate that will give fair competing opportunities is the object of the miners' organization everywhere. We have been working to bring, the operators of the several states together with this end in view. Though our efforts have been futile, we will continue to advocate that policy, believing there is but one sure way to keep down strikes and disputes, which are of no advangage to either side, and that is for the miners and operators interested from the various states to meet annually, mutually fix prices for each district that are fair and just, and each party to agree to observe it faithfully until a subsequent agreement takes its place. During the eight years that this system was in vogue strikes and disturbances of a general character were unknown; and the causes which gave rise to them can again be removed as soon as the operators interested will see their interests in this light."

Railroad, Up the River, Jefferson County, Ohio-The English Speaking Miners Decided to Return to Work this Morning. and the Foreign Miners Say this Shall Not be Done-People of the Two Towns Anticipate a Clash.

Advices received last night are to the effect that trouble is expected at the Dillonvale and Long Run mines of the Wheeling, Lake Erie & Pittsburgh Coal Company, on the Wheeling & Lake Erie road, up the river in Jefferson county, Ohio. These villages were the storm center of the late coal strike in its early stages and now bld fair to be the scene of an aftermath of violence, result was another strike which was ingigated and carried out by the foreign miners employed at the two mines, and who greatly outnumber the American and English speaking miners. Yesterday afternoon the English speaking miners announced their intention of resuming this morning, but the foreigners declined to take similar action, and in addition to remaining out on strike, have declared that no other men shall be allowed to work. Both sides are determined and there seems little doubt of trouble this morning when the American miners return to work. The foreigners are made up of the most undesirable class, and during the strike their leaders found it difficult their leaders found it difficult to restrain them from acts of violence.

The coming appearance of James Young, the rising young tragedian, for whom a brilliant future is predicted, is attracting great interest among theatre goers, and it is probable two large au-diences will greet the Young Company in the Opera House, next Saturday, when "David Garrick" will be the matnee attraction, and "The Merchant of inee attraction, and "The Merchant of Venice" in the evening. Mr. Young has received high praise from press and public for his work. Of his characterization of Claude Meinotte in "David Garrick," an Augusta (Ga.) critic says; As Claude Meinotte there was no fault to find, and Mr. Young received an ovation that has never before been accorded an actor in Augusta. Many players have been compelled to respond to one, or at the most, two curtain calls during an evening, but last night Mr. Young was for the fourth time compelled to bow in acknowledgement of the appreciation of his auditors. He has improved his time since here last and is proved his time since here last and is surely carving for himself a name that will go down among the annals of the American stage

"Murder Will Out,"

Last evening a dress rehearsal was held in the auditorium of the Carroll Club by the young ladies who will present on the evening of September 28, a one-act farce—"Murder Will Out," which will be followed by an illustrated entertainment, Tennyson's "Dream of Fair Women." This latter will be put on with historic accuracy and the costumes being of an order to bewilder the most vivid imagination. The young ladies, as well as the instructor, realize the fact that the undertaking is one seldom attempted by other than the thorough and successful actress, but, nevertheless, they believe that the large and cultured audience which is already assured, will have no occasion for disappointment.
